In Law To Reappoint

Members of the Board of Aldermen went along with the Mayor and confirmed his reappointment of Frank K. Perkins of 27 Waverley ave., Newton, as Street Commissioner and Thomas J. Forde of 47 Waban Hill rd., Chestnut Hill, as purchasing agent.

Both men are over 70 years of age and have been holding their positions under the Civil Defense Emergency Act which will be wiped from the statute books on Oct. 24 as a result of a bill passed at this year's legislative session. In most cities and towns the repeal of the emergency law will necessitate the retirement of all public employees and officials who have reached the compulsory retirement age

However, City Solicitor Matt B. Jones reported to Mayor Gibbs that the law forcing municipal employees to retire at 70 does not apply to Perkins and Forde since neither man is in the Newton retirement system and neither will get a pen-sion from the city when he leaves his present position.

Mayor Gibbs said he woul take advantage of this provi

Newton Meets Weymouth Saturday After Upset Win Over Brockton; Newton South Engages Stoughton

Newton High School's football team, which came from behind to score a spectacular 16-14 upset victory over a strong Brockton aggregation on Monday, hopes to continue its winning ways when it meets Weymouth at Dickinson Stadium at 1:30 Saturday afternoon.

It will be a great week for the Tigers if they can chalk up two triumps in a six-day span since in their 21 games prior to their terrific conquest of Brockton they had won only one game and tied one, while losing 19.

Newton South's gridders, who won their initial test with Fitchburg and had an open date last week-end, journey to Stoughton on Saturday with high hopes of preserving their unblemished record. Monday was a big day for by a well executed block Newton High's Tigers—a day Fred Magarian, swept which saw them wipe out merories of disappointing and —NEWTON MEETS— (Continued on Page 3)

Newton-Waltham Bank Opens Branch Office

Hundreds of visitors were welcomed last week by Bank President George L. White at the 'Open House' observance of the new Newton Upper or the new Newton Opper Falls office of the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company at 235 Needham st. This branch office was pre-viously located across the street. Bank officials stated the quarters there proved too small in the rapidly expanding Newton industrial area. During the course of an average week, thousands of workers in the industrial plants along Newton's "Miracle Mile" use the bank's more than 101 different banking facilities.

Among the features at the new office are greatly en-larged customer lobby space, private conference room, a New Account section, Drive-In window and off-street customer parking.

Mr. White stated: "Dur ing the past few years, the Newton-Waltham Bank has opened six new offices in the Newton, Waltham, Wayland and Weston areas for it is our firm belief that the future of this section of suburban Boston has never been more promising. There is a new vitality optimism which is reflected in the increased number of new plants and families of new plants and rammed locating here. To those new arrivals, as well as to our friends of long standing, we re-dedicate our efforts to do dedicate our efforts to do everything possible to service their banking needs to their complete satisfaction".

Newton League Answers Attack On Graduated Income Tax Plan

Mrs. Betty Beckwith, president of the League of Women Voters of Newton, today took issue with state-ments made by Attorney William Doyle, Chairman of the Committee Against Increased Income Taxes, who had expressed opposition to a referendum to appear on the Nov. 6 election ballot which, if adopted, would permit the enactment of a graduated State income tax in Massachusetts.

Mrs. Beckwith lists below some of the statements Attorney Doyle and the answers of the League Women Voters.

1. Statement — "Massachu-setts wage-earners will be If you say that some of thes proposed amendment would make absolutely no change in the amount of taxes collected the State. If the Legislature passed a law using the power to impose graduated rates, as granted by the amendment, the result would depend on the particular law passed. No two of the general income-tax states have identi-cal laws. The law passed well might not change the total amount to be collected by this tax. There would, however, be a change in tax impact. Now the tax rates are varied ac-cording to the source of the taxpavers income. If the alternative method is accepted rates will vary (be graduated) according to the amount of the axpayer's income, with, in variably, some allowance for lependents, since the number a specific income must support is very relevant to the ade quancy of the income.

2. Statement - The plan "is an undisguised tax trap, which could give the Legisla-ture blank check authority to increase income taxes without limitation."

Answer - The 44th amendment, in 1915, gave the Legislature this authority, except that it prescribed that variation of rates must be accord ing to the source of the income—this was to meet a spe-cial condition of those times. The Legislature was given "full power" to tax all incomes; to divide income into classes, and, while using one rate within a class, to vary rates between classes as much, and in any way, it saw fit. Also, it was given power to give exemptions and deductions with no restriction except that they be reasonable, and it can now use such temp orary taxes and surtaxes as it

3. Statement - "Question No. 1 is a proposal to amend the Massachusetts Constitution to give the Legislature full power and authority to abolish the present system of taxation.

Answer - The only new power proposed is to permit the Legislature to choose an alternative means of varying income tax rates, that is graduation according to amount. The use of this power would not be compulsory, only permissive. Choice is the basis of freedom of action in any area. Passage of the amendment would provide it in this area,

1. Statements will be setts wage-earners will be saddled with higher state taxes unless Question No. 1 on the Nov. 6 ballot is defeated."

Passage of the If you say means are highly undesirable, that is exactly the point. If all are at hand, all can be scrutinized to find the most desirable. The only means not available is that of varynow available is that of vary-ing rates in the personal in-come tax according to the amount of a taxpayer's in-come, a method used by thirty other states. Only one other state uses the Massachusetts

> 7. Statement — "A graduated income tax would be similar to the present Federal income tax system."

Answer — As to type, this is absolutely true; but from words that follow, "Federal income taxes already are a crushing burden" and "if a similar system is to be adopted for state income taxes, men and women who work for a living will be altogether flattened," there seems to be an implication that state rates might correspond to federal might correspond to federal

This is not even approxi-mately true in states that use graduated rates. The highes rate, used only in North Dakota and Delaware, is 11% In Delaware this applies only to incomes over $100,000. Incomes between $50,000 and $100,000 pay at 10%, and those between $30,000 and $50,000 at 9%; others range down from that. One state has a maximum of 10½%, two of 9½%, two of 9. The rest of the 30 have lower rates.

The state income tax can be deducted on the federal return where the high rates actually are. This means that the high er the state tax the lower the federal. This may compensate for much of the higher tax. It is estimated that for an income in the 91% bracket, an added 7% state tax would result in only a fraction of 1% rise in total payments.

8. Statement — It is possible that "many workers in the low income group, who are not now required to pay State in-come taxes, would wind up having to pay their share of the load."

ower to pass such a law now It could even abolish exemp tions. Lowering the exemption from $2000 to $600 exact proposal made last year by both the Greater Boston Economic Study and the Greater Boston Real Estate Study. Answer — "Burdensome" is a vague word. Its use depends upon individual reaction. Some may consider any tax, beyond that, taken with the elimina-

He has been doing a good deal of door-to-door campaign-nig in his bid for a House seat and also has attended a number of house parties held in his behalf. Fisher, who resides in West Newton, is married and the father of three children. He served in the Army Signal Corps during World War II.

Newton Teacher Speaker at Mass. Annual Conclave

Among the speakers at the fourth annual workshop con-ference of the Massachusetts Association of School Secretaries which is being held this weekend, October 4 and October 5, at the University of Massachusetts in Amherst is Donald Welch, acting assistant superintendent for instruction of the Newton Public Schools. His subject will be, "Trends in Education."

Members of the associa-tion's executive board who are planning this meeting include Miss Florence Higgins of New-tonville, state treasurer, Mrs. Marguerite Fitch, Newton Centre, and Mrs. Marjory Harting, Newton. Several other secretaries employed by the Newton Public Schools plan to be in attendance at this fall conference, which is co-sponsored by the secre-taries' group and the Massachusetts Department of Edu-

This year's theme, TEL-STAR, was chosen to "signal" the secretary to increase efficiency to a higher level.

Representatives will be present from the Massachusetts Department of Educa-tion, the United States Office of Education, the University of Massachusetts, several of the state's public school systems, and Bryant & Strattor

Newton started its second touchdown drive with slightly more than five minutes to play. The key play of the march was a forward pass from Beard to Tom Mechem which netted 27 yards and landed the Tigers on the Brockton 10.

Three plays later Newton was still three yards from the Brockton goal line. On fourth down Beard swung to his right, apparently to pass, saw no receivers open and headed for the right corner of the end zone.

Political Highlights

The argument advanced most often against Ted Kennedy is that he undoubtedly would be a consistent supporter of his brother's policies.

That isn't a very potent issue since it's highly improbable that a vast majority of the voters of Massachusetts want to send a Senator to Washington who would oppose President Kennedy's policies.

In truth, there isn't a great deal of difference in the political philosophies of Ted Kennedy and George Lodge, and it's sometimes difficult to tell on just what questions they do disagree.

However, both the delegates to the GOP State Convention and the voters in the Republican primary picked Lodge over Curtis as the man they preferred for the U. S. Senate.

In so doing they chose the candidate whose political phili-sophy was closer to that of President Kennedy and, course, to Ted Kennedy as well.

This has caused some Republicans to lose interest in the struggle between Ted Kennedy George Lodge. In fact, it undoubtedly is one of the reasons why the Kennedy-Lodge clash is not commanding as much attention or causing as much excitement as did Kennedy-McCormack and Curtis-Lodge primary struggles.

It was noteworthy, incidentally, that in the debate be-tween Lodge and Curtis, Lodge was more critical of the Kennedy administration's handling of the Cuban problem than was Curtis

Curtis lieutenants, while not desiring to be placed in the position of defending Kennedy's policies in a Republican pri-mary campaign, privately at-tributed some of Lodge's state-ments to the fact that Lodge was not as well informed on the Cuban situation as was

It seems evident that George Lodge now is hard-pressed for certain. He already is the real any effective issues to use against Ted Kennedy.

Kennedy for his part is concentrating on pushing his own candidacy and meeting as many voters as possible, making no reference whatever to Lodge. This is the same strategy he followed in his primary contest with Attorney General Edward he were to come here would be J. McCormack, Jr.

Headlights and Highlights From Newton South High

By JOAN MOFENSON

As the fourth week of school comes to an end Newton South teachers and students have finally adjusted to the new routine. This year, as an experiment, a rotating block system is in use. Generally, school hours are different from last year. School starts 10 minutes earlier, but dismissal time varies from day to day for most students. A new block has been added to the end of the day when students can make up work, confer with teachers, and seek extra help. The first school social event book. The staff is directed by

A parade in the afternoon and several acts of entertainment and an auction in the evening are included in the latest plans announced for the Fall Festival to be held on Our Lady's School grounds, Newton, all day next Saturday, October 6.

The parade in the afternoo will feature the appearance of John's Missilettes and Missilemen of Winthrop. The Missilettes are a Class A drill team consisting of 38 girls with four boys as drummers. The group were Archdiocesan champions in 1961. The Missilemen is a prep class drum and bugle corps made up of 70 boys with a 15-girl color guard. The color guard took the Archdiocesan CYO Junior crown in 1961, its first year in active competition.

The parade will leave the school grounds at 2:15 p.m. led by Our Lady's High School cheer leaders. The route will include the major streets in Nonantum, Newtonville, and Newton.

The combined group pears in one of the most outstanding uniforms in the state. The uniform of the Missilettes is all white with cerise trim and that of the Missilemen is black and white with cerise trim.

The entertainment will start Bldg N. 8:30—Alcoholics An-onymous, 11A Highland aven-will include singers, dancers, baton twirlers, a Dixieland

REP. F. W. PERRY

Rep. Perry Asks Voters Purchase Integrity Bonds

Crusading Representa-tive Francis W. Perry, who exposed the waterways scandals and the sweetheart parking deals, today appealed to the people of this area to help finance his campaign for the Lieu-tenant Governorship by purchasing "Integrity Bonds" which his cam-paign committee is offering for sale.

The bonds contain a pledge from Perry that, if elected, he will return to the bearer "diligent and faithful service to the end that a cleaner atmosphere of government may be created for the people of Massachusetts."

"I have directed that the bonds themselves be of such quality that they will be saved by those who buy them, saved by those who buy them, not only as a souvenir of the campaign, and an indication of their personal part in it, but also so that I may always be cognizant that these pledges are outstanding, that they are backed by faith in me, and that they constitute a rather special obligation to pay "in-terest" by means of better government for this "invest-ment' in me," Perry declared.

Perry explained that his greatest concern as the tempo of the election campaign increases is that he will not have the funds he needs "to fully and most effectively" take his case to the people.

He said that a candidate who has nothing to offer to special interest groups other than a pledge to work for the general good has diffi-culty in raising funds.

"Wherever I Campaign," Perry continued, "I say to people: "I am Representative Perry of Duxbury. I have been fighting the sweetheart deals in the Department of Public Works in the Division of Waterways.

"If I am elected your Lieutenant Governor, I shall continue to work for your best interests without fear or favor. I need your vote."

Perry, asserting that he has received a "gratifying response" expressed the conviction that the "people want a man in the office of Lieutenant Governor, who will approach public service with 'aggressive honesty.'"

"When I recall to their mind the things I have done in the past and offer this as proof positive that I shall effectively fight corruption as their Lieutenant Governor, I gain their best wishes for suc-cess and pledges of help on election day," said Perry who added that he has been campaigning in Democratic areas, "carrying a message where Republicans are seldom seen or heard."

The hard-hitting GOP nominee for Lieutenant Governor emphasized that he never tried to make corruption "a partisan issue."

"I have constantly sought the assistance of persons of all political persuasions to help eliminate corruption," he stated. "And so I have asked people to support me not for partisan reasons, not to do me any special honor, but be-cause I am equipped by ex-perience and by personal de-termination to do the job that many of our fine, honest citizens would do if they were in government.

"I know the patterns cor-ruption take in Massachu-setts from first-hand knowledge," Perry went on.
"Much of the wrong-doing comes from contractual arrangements for public pro-jects involving substantial expenditures and the manner in which some contracts are handled.

"All of these large contracts go before the Gover-nor's Council for a final ap-proval. If I am elected Lieutenant Governor, I would sit on that body. I could do much to stop some of the abuses before they happen because I would organize my office of Lieutenant Governor as a watchdog agency to protect the interests of the people," Perry stressed.

Motorists Have Short Time Left To Get Stickers

Automobile owners have only a little more than a week to obtain the blue safety stickers which must be displayed on the windshields of their cars on the warming of Oct. 16 morning of Oct. 16.

Those who have not yet secured the stickers are urged to do so quickly as possible in order to avoid the delays which may be encountered in the 11th hour

Registrar of Motor Vehi-cles Clement A. Riley has warned that his inspectors will be on the highways Oct. 16 to flag down all auto-mobiles which fail to show the required stickers.

Automobile operators who do not have the stickers will ordered off the road and will be liable to a fine.

Our Lady's, Out Of Practice, Win Over St. Mary's

Our Lady's High, in a game that was anybody's nearly all the way, handed St. Mary's of Cambridge a 12-6 defeat last Sunday in Allison Park.

Despite the fact that it was Our Lady's second successive win of the Suburban Catholic League season, Coach Jim Sullivan wasn't happy.

"We should have won by three touchdowns," he said, and then explained that the reason for what he termed a poor game may have been the storm, which prevented Thursday and Friday practice.

Spectators numbering more than 3000 watched rugged halfback Jeff King, transferee from Newton High, and half-back Mike Shea supply the plays that brought victory.

The latter went for a touch down in the third quarter when he took a blocked punt to the end zone. With only a few minutes left to play, King took a dive into the end zone from two yards out to settle the affair.

St. Mary's lone score came halfway through the first quarter, after an Our Lady's fumble, with three rushes from Our Lady's 22-yard line.

Two of the Cambridge players suffered injuries that re-quired treatment at Newton-Wellesley Hospital, after which they were released. Ted Sullivan, tackle had his neck X-rayed after receiving a severe strain in the third period. Co-captain Charlie Mc-Guire was hit hard by Our Lady's lineman in the first period, and had to be treated for a spine and hip contusion. Next Sunday, Our Lady's takes on Immaculate Conception High of Revere in Allison Park.

Relative to that game, Father McNally said he wouldn't care to make a prediction. "We beat them last year," he said, "but prior to that we always had difficulty; they always were able to come up with a good team."

Wide Variety In "Y" Gym And Swim Classes

Everything suitable for men, women and youths wanting physical betterment is offered in classes that began this week at the Newton Y.M.C.A.

Chairman James H. Rogers of the Physical Education Committee points to a wide variety, which includes volley ball for men, gym and swim classes for men, and like the Physical Education events for boys and girls.

Especially popular is practice for the boys' 8 to 14 swimming team, which captured the Eastern Massachusetts Massachusetts championship last fall.

An expanded activity is the family swims on the first and third Saturday of each month. Popular, too, is the judo course under Oliver Bochem, 2nd degree black belt instructor and N. E. 160-lb, champion. Men's classes started week, and the youth classes be gin Saturday, October 13.

Other events: Wrestling. handball, squash, weightlifting and boxing.

Ike To Bring GOP Campaign To Climax On Monday Night

The Republican campaign in Massachusetts will reach its climax next Monday, just three weeks and a day before election, when former President Eisenhower comes here to speak at a $100-a-plate birthday dinner. (Ike will be 72 on Sunday).

Apart from the funds his presence here will draw into the party's war chest, Mr. Eisenhower is virtually certain to give a big lift to the GOP drive and to get it moving at a faster tempo.

Political experts have been speculating on whether Ike will use his Boston visit as an occasion on which to blast away at the Kennedy adminis-

HARRIS A. REYNOLDS

Harris Reynolds Candidate For Secy. of State

Attorney Harris A. Reynolds. Republican nominee for Secretary of State, de clared this week that his platform is the same today as it was last January when he represented Harrison Chadwick as counsel at the TV "bookie" hearings at the State House.

The chief issue in the election campaign, Rey-nolds maintains, is that of corruption in public life. There can be no compro mise with corruption. There can be no armistice,"

Harris A. Reynolds is 48 years old, a life-long Republican and a lawyer with 24 years of trial experience. He makes his home in Wellesley with his Gloria, and two sons, age 7 and 9.

He is a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Dartmouth Col-lege and a graduate of Harvard Law School.

He is a member of the Massachusetts Republican Club, a former town meeting member in Belmont and a for-mer member of the Newton Republican City Committee.

He served as an Asistant
Attorney General from 1953 to 1956 and represented the Commissioner of Corporations and Taxation, the Medical Board, the Dental Board, the Insurance Commissioner, the State Treasurer and the Civil Service Commissioner in numerous trials in the lower courts and on appeals argued before the Supreme Court. As a trial attorney in a Milk Board case, he served success fully as trial counsel for Mary B. Schindler and Matthew J.

Kappa Association of Greater Leominster Boston; president of the Boston Junior Chamber of Commerce; president of the New-ton Junior Chamber of Comexecutive secretary, Massachusetts Civic League clerk and director, Belmont Taxpayers' Assn.; officer, Newton Highlands Improvement Assn. and an officer of the Newton Upper Falls Improvement Assn. In 1956, he campaigned unsuccessfully for the Governor's Council but was beaten out by Christian A. Herter, Jr. Man people remember Reynolds campaigning that year from a loud speaker equipped heli-copter that hovered over crowded railroad stations from Newton to Boston and Boston

He kicked off his campaign for Secretary of State at a clambake in Needham at the estate of Mrs. Robert W. Kist ner. The highlight of the re-ception was when Reynolds landed by helicopter with Governor Volpe to greet George Cabot Lodge and other mem-bers of the State ticket, as well as 400 to 500 people.

Lions, after defeating Fitch burg in their firso game, had an open date on Sept. 29 and were rained out Oct. 6.

So the Lions face the pros pect of meeting a powerful Leominster team after three weeks of idleness.

Winkler declared that the let down was hard on his boys who had worked vigorously for two weeks pointing for the Stoughton game only to have a postponement forced by the heavy rains. Whether South avy rains. Whether South with Leominster is a question only Saturday will answer.

Ordinarily, the games with Weymouth and Stoughton would have been postponed until Monday, but that was prevented by the Yom Kippur observance.

Newton High School's gridiron Tigers were confident they could have defeated Weymouth last Saturday in what was to have been the first football game between the two schools. Now their initial encounter will have to wait until 1963.

Coach Romayne and faculty manager Reggie Smith decided against playing Weymouth on the Saturday before Thanksgiving, obvio ly feeling that a game that day would lessen Newton's chances in its traditional collision with Brookline.

Romayne said his job now is to get the thoughts of his players off the game that wasn't played with Weymouth and onto the upcoming enunter Friday afternoon with Watertown.

Newton High should have Collins in ouster proceedings the edge over Watertown on brought against them by Gov. the strength of its fine show-Furcolo.

Reynolds has also served as president of the Phil Beta underdog in its game with

Alderman Bradley explained his views on home rule in the

"One of the most obvious

flaws in the organization of Massachusetts government can be seen in the failure to recognize and to distinguish between affairs and concerns that affect the entire Commonwealth and those that are properly the prime responsi-bility of the residents of the cities and towns. Our State does not acknowledge the merits of the home rule principle, and because it does not, ooth statewide and local problems do not receive the proper attention necessary to their

"Every community in the Commonwealth is a creature of the Commonwealth and as such is constantly at the mercy of the General Court in two important ways. It may exercise only such power that body grants to it; h more importantly, it is always in jeopardy of having its will overridden by the transient majorities of the legislature,"

"In many respects, this situation is neither improper nor unwarranted. Even the most dedicated home rule proponents concede, for example, that the State must have final and absolute authority over local financial practices. What is intolerable is the frequently recurring willingness of the legislature to dictate to but one city or town where its traffic lights shall be installed, at what level its employees shall be paid, who shall be eligible for pensions, civil service status, and the like.

"Time and time again — but particularly since the end of World War II the General

Court has concerned itself with legislative matters that are of concern to but one specifically named locality.

This is indefensible to those of us who believe that voters in these localities are capable of best understanding their needs and how they can best be met. There is neither merit nor justification in permitting the representatives of the en-tire population of the State to decide how the local affairs of any single city or town should be managed," Bradley con-

"Meddling by the State legislature in matters of local concern — apart from the fact that it is contrary to the best principles of local self-government — is costly on quite another score. Every time the General Court takes up meas-ures of limited local applicability it denies itself the time and opportunities to resolve those questions of genuine state importance and diverts its energy and attention from broad public policy. "Residents, taxpayers, and voters of Massachusetts de-

Edw. W. Brooke Offers Plan For Attorney General

"Massachusetts needs an Attorney General who will follow through, and not stop with prosecution for misconduct," Edward W. Brooke declares in a statement outlining his intentions if the voters elect him to that office next month.

"He must expose the causes of misconduct, and work to close the loopholes that make wrong acts by public officials possible," the GOP-endorsed candidate added.

"In the past 10 to 12 years," he continued, "the sensational flareups on Beacon Hill, the recurring investigations, the occasional trials—many of them inconclusive—have merely scratched the surface.'

Saying that a man is needed who will be obligated to no one but the citizens of the state, Brooke described his aims as follows:

1-To enforce the law for all, without exception.

2—To protect the rights of the innocent, the accused, and even the guilty.

3-To restore an atmosphere in which anyone will be proud to raise a family.

Whole or Jellied $\begin{array}{cc} 2 & 41c \\ & 1 & lb \end{array}$ Tins $\begin{array}{cc} 2 & 1 & lb \end{array}$ The former chairman of the Boston Finance Commission points to his achievements in that office as proof that the aforegoing things can be done, Clam or Fish Chowder and that he is the man to do

Responsibility for bringing Quinn Tamm of the International Association of Police Chiefs to Boston to make recommendations following the disclosures made in the documentary film "Biography of a Bookie Joint," was his, Brooke also asserts.

Brooke promises to take these steps to prevent corrup-tion, graft and conflict of interest in Massachusetts:

1-Strengthen the criminal investigation division of the Attorney General's office by adding more trained men and including some with CPA ex-

2-Eliminate land-taking

3-Attack the roots of juvenile delinquency by fighting the slums and "slum barons."

4-Act on the State Auditor's reports by assigning an assistant to take specific responsibility for following through on the auditor's recommendations.

5-Insure regular review of financial activities of public charities so as to give the public confidence that the charitable dollar does work intended.

Brooke concludes his state ment by repeating his promise that, if elected, he will staff his office with the best pro-fessional skill he can find, men and women who believe as he does, and who will do the job without fear or favor to either political party.

Political Highlights

President Kennedy was critical of the Eisenhower regime during his recent campaign swing through the Middle West, and there is a good possibility that Ike will have something to say in reply to the man who succeeded him in the White House.

On the other hand, JFK is so popular in his home State that Eisenhower might do more harm than good for the Republican cause if he chooses next Monday night's dinner as the forum from which to answer him.

How much aid Ike can actually furnish to Governor Volpe, George Lodge, Francis W. Perry, Edward W. Brooke and the other members of the GOP State ticket in terms of actual votes is uncertain. The former President is still respected and beloved. Few public figures, however, are able to transfer their own popularity to someone else.

What Ike undoubtedly will be able to do is to generate enthusiasm and excitement within the Republican party which will carry on into the coming weeks.

Democratic politicos wish they could match him by bringing President Kennedy here, but the latter is staying away from Massachusetts except for a brief visit to vote.

Ted-Ed Sing Harmony Duet

Democratic politicians in Massachusetts back through the years have regarded a primary battle as something akin to a family fight. They could assail each other in savage struggles for party nominations and then close ranks and present a united front in the election contests with the Republican opposition.

Even with that tradition, bruised feelings have been soothed, wounds healed and rifts in the Democratic party closed with remarkable swiftness following last month's primary.

That has been due in part to the fact that Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy and Endicott (Chub) Peabody won the Democratic nominations for U.S. Senator and Governor in so overwhelming a fashion. But it also reflects the successful efforts by Kennedy and Peabody to pull together all the elements in the Democratic party.

It was only a few weeks ago that Ted Kennedy and Attorney General Edward J. McCormack, Ir., were engaged in a political conflict which attracted almost as much attention in the other 49 States as it did in Massachusetts.

Now McCormack not only has endorsed Kennedy but has held a meeting of his top lieuber has seen. Even his oldest brother never stumped as intensively as does Ted.

nomination without uttering a He won his gamble, and it has been paying dividends.

Any wounds left by the Democratic primary were not caused by Ted Kennedy who sit down and shake hands with the man he vanquished last month without taking back a thing he said because he never said anything it would be necessary to take

Through his primary cam-paign Ted Kennedy was looking ahead to the election and was taking care to say nothing in August which he would regret in October.

That has made it much easier for him to draw into his Democrats who had backed McCormack against him. It also is one of the reasons why Kennedy's election prospects are far brighter tothan it appeared they would be two or three months ago.

Kennedy, incidentally, has not changed his method of campaigning. He makes no attacks upon George C. Lodge, disregards the claims and statements made by Lodge, and sim ply outlines his own ideas and views and presses his own drive.

voters make up their own minds how they would mark their ballots.

This year, however, members of the League have strayed onto the political artillery range and into the line of fire.

They have involved themselves in a bitter controversythe fight over the graduated income tax referendum which will appear on the Nov. 6 elec-tion ballot.

This row is certain to leave its mark upon the League before it is concluded, and it some members of the League of Women Voters are still on speaking terms with their husbands on election day, it will be one of the biggest surprises of the campaign.

In all deference and politeess to the pleasant-mannered ladies who comprise the League of Women arguments they advance for the passage of this referendum are weak and unconvincing. They sound as if the League members are trying hard to convince themselves.

What the League of Wome Voters, in effect, says is that the referendum should be approved so that the members of the Legislature then may decide whether or not they want to adopt a graduated State income tax. Let no one be misled by any such reasoning as that. If this referendum is adopted, it will be accepted as a mandate by the Legislature that the people want a graduated State income tax patterned after the federal income tax, and you may be sure one will be enacted.

Every seasoned political oberver on Beacon Hill knows that a graduated income tax if one is approved - would be used as a device by the Legislature to raise many millions of dollars in additional taxes.

The ladies will reply that there is no proof that this is so. That's true. There isn't any proof. But they'll get proof of it next year if this referendum is approved, and they will have harsh word about McCormack. to accept a share of the responsibility for what happens.

A lot of people will pay lot more taxes if the graduated referendum income tax adopted. It's highly unlikely that many people will pay any less taxes to the State than they do now.

If this referendum is approved and your State income tax bill goes up, you may get some comfort from the observation of the League that you can deduct that amount from the income on which you pay federal taxes.

The League of Women Voters is right, of course, that no one should think that the passage of the graduated income tax referendum will have the effect of keeping the tax total down.

But everyone should also realize that the passage of this referendum will be an invitation to the Legislature to increase taxes and that the Legislature will accept the in vitation.

know that the public interest will be diligently served if he is elected." In answering the question as to why he is running, Mr.

Fisher stated: " I believe that every citizen ative George E. Rawson who said: "I am pleased that a self for public office if he beman of Frederick Fisher's lieves he has the ability and caliber has offered himself as capacity to serve. At this a candidate for any seat in the time, when so much scandal government and so many people have indicated a loss of confidence in our state government, it is particularly important that responsible citizens indicate their willingness to accept the responsibility of Student Day public office.

There is much to be accom plished in addition to restor-ing the people's confidence and respect. The climate of Massachusetts must be made more wholesome for business and industry so that the people of this state can find jobs and security. Our state gov-ernment is badly in need of reorganization so that it can more effectively represent the will of the people and respond to the needs of the times. Many of our state institutions which house the old and the ill who cannot care for them selves need to be improved and modernized. "We must face these and other problems with intelli-gence and imagination. It is for this reason that I am running and earnestly solicit sup-port," Fisher concluded.

Secretary of State Kevin H. White today announced the formation of a Citizen's Committee that will join with the Commonwealth in sponsoring the first official International Student Day to be held in this state.

Four thousand foreign students, who have come from nearly every country in the world to study in the Commonwealth this year, are being invited to the State House and to Boston on Friday, Oct. 26.

The program, which is being administered through Secretary White's office, has been designed to present the students with an opportunity to see at first hand our democratic institutions of government in practice.

"We are eager", Secretary White stated, "to have these international students, who are often well informed about national affairs, become aware of our structure of govern-ment at the state level and its relation to the local com-munity."

Committee members include Richard A. Berenson, President of the World Trade Center; Earl Stevenson, President of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, Mrs. Karl T. Compton, and Sidney Rabb.

M. Binney, Vice President of the First National Bank of Boston; Francis Lavigne, of the Mass. State Labor Council, AFL-CIO; Mrs. Louis I. Kane, President of the Boston League of Women Voters.

Others include Mrs. Charles L. Wyzanski, Jr.; Richard S. E. Wyzanski, Jr.; Richard S., Robie, Sr.; former Governor and Mrs. William H. Vander-bilt; Representative Beryl Cohen of Brookline; Repre-sentative Mary B. Newman of Cambridge; Paul Sonnabend of the Hotel Corporation of Massachusetts Medical Society. "Thanks to our plan of putting many important coverages in a single policy you homeowners can now get far greater protection — at exceptionally low cost.

"Coverage is tops. You can get 'people protection' should anyone — friends, tradesmen, or even trespassers — get hurt on your property. And 'property protection' against such things as fire or high winds, for example. Your home and garage can be covered for full replacement value, too, not just for that elusive amount called 'replacement less depreciation'. And you can be assured of a substantial sum to pay additional living expenses if you must use other quarters as a result of home damage covered by your policy.

Investing 63¢ a day at 3¾% interest can bring some pretty nice things into your future. In six years—$1,500 down on a new home. In twelve yearsnearly $3,500 for college costs.

But things being the way they are, it's pretty hard to consider your own future without giving some thought to your country's future, too. Millions of Americans have done this and are putting their savings into United States Savings Bonds.

The money you invest in Savings Bonds is one of the best ways you can help Uncle Sam today. It helps keep our economy strong and provides one of the most dependable means the Government has to manage the costs of national defense.

Francis W. Perry Crusades Against Sweetheart Deals

Representative Francis W. Perry, whose one-man crusade against corruption in the State government resulted in the exposure of sweetheart parking deals and waterways scandals, today outlined his qualifications for the office of coming election.

EDWARD M. KENNEDY

Ted Kennedy Tells Views To Voters

Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy in a special message to the voters of this area outlined his concept of the duties and responsibilities of a U.S. Senator and his ideas for meeting and fulfilling them.

He told of the measures he would support to promote the interests of the of Massachusetts and discussed his ideas for protecting the nation's ecurity and advancing the cause of peace.

Ted Kennedy's statement

"The Senate of the United States is, in 1962, a center of action watched by all the world. Its decisions affect the lives of men and women in every part of the globe, every state of the Union, and in every city and town of Massa-chusetts. I feel that I can bring to the making of these decisions an understanding of the hopes and needs of the people who will be affected by them. I have discussed with people everywhere, from all walks of life, the problems which were important to them. I will take this awareness and concern to the deliberations of the United States Senate.

"I believe that a United States Senator cannot be limited in his outlook. He first has to be concerned with the daily lives of those who have placed their trust in him by electing him to office.

"As the representative of his State to the nation it is a Senator's responsibility to make certain that national programs recognize the needs of Massachusetts and utilize her

"In and around Boston, for example, there is a tremend-ous need for improved public transportation. We need good roads and we are beginning to get them, but we must find some way to alleviate the clogged traffic conditions clogged which even today are a serious problem for Boston.

These conditions are only going to get worse and it is all too likely that they will be an insurmountable obstacle to Boston's renaissance unless we do something about them. And if businesses and people move out of Boston, the whole metropolitan area will suffer. The area served by this news paper will flourish only i Boston is a dynamic center of industry, commerce, and cul-

"Therefore, I strongly support legislation for federal capital grants to urban trans portation systems. Only this means, can Greater Bos-ton be served by low-cost, convenient and attractive public transportation. I am certain that the Mass Transporta-tion Commission's $10.2 million study which is being financed largely through federal funds, will point up the need for such legislation to a Senator.

"A Senator must also be conscious of the challenges and opportunities at home and abroad which confront Amer-ica as a whole. The crucial task of today is America's undertaking its role in the building of a world free from both war and want.

"But wanting peace is not enough. We must act to create the conditions which will make for a world not just free from war, but free from the fear of war. I believe that this is possible only with a respon sible disarmament agreement, one which neither invites attack in or demands unreason

"As a United States Senator I will support any eforts to achieve this end. If good faith and reasonable negotiations on the part of America were all that were needed for peace, we would have seen it years ago. But until our efforts for an agreement are successful we must maintain our strength. We simply cannot allow freedom to disappear from the world because we did not care enough to help pre-serve it," Kennedy concluded.

Endicott Peabody, Democratic nominee for Governor, this week renewed his challenge to Governor Volpe to debate the issue of corruption "at any time

Peabody charged that Volpe has been dodging challenge and the debate avoiding a televised faceto-face meeting.

"I think we owe it to the voters of Massachusetts to let them see us on the same plat-form and hear our views on form and hear our views the corruption issue and any other issues the Governor is willing to discuss," Peabody

"If the Governor feels he is such a great corruption fighter, why is he afraid to share

"He exerted no leadership in securing passage of the code of ethics law, and he has already violated its principle by appointing to the Stadium Authority, a sports promoter who will be the Authority's chief customer," Peabody con-

"If the code of ethics law had been in effect when Volpe made this appoint-ment, then Volpe would have been guilty of actually violating a law, not just a principle," Peabody charged. "Then, the Governor clam-ored loud and strong for a crime commission, but when he submitted a bill for such a commission, a leader of his own party, Senator Graham, denounced the bill as worth-less in combating crime."

"The bill, fortunately, was revamped by the Legislature into an effective crime-fighting measure."

"However, what then did Volpe do?" Peabody demand-

It also is evidenced by unusually heavy requests for absence, heliots from Newton, from 9:00 to 3:00. sentee ballots from Newton voters who will be in other parts of the country and even in distant points in the world on election day. City Clerk Basbas reveals that approximately 200 applications for absentee ballots already have reached his office and that they are arriving every day.

The requests have from persons in practically every section of the world ex-cept for the countries behind the Iron Curtain.

A special night crew of workers has been assigned by Bas-bas to process the applications for absentee ballots so that the ballots may be mailed out as soon as they are received from the State elec-received from the State elec-tion department.

Even though registration of voters closed at 10 p.m. last Friday, servicemen may have their names added to the city's voting list up to three days before election, City Clerk Basbas stated.

Whether the Democratic or Republican candidates stand to gain from the rise in the number of Newton voters is the subject of sharp dispute by spokesmen for the two po-litical parties.

Both sides put on drives to register every possible voter, and both expressed gratification with the results that were achieved.

All the indications are that Newton will cast a greater number of votes on Nov. 6 than in any election except when John F. Kennedy was standing for the Presidency two years ago.

George C. Lodge Outlines Ideas And Programs

George C. Lodge, Republican nominee for the U. S. Senate, today outlined his ideas and programs and cited the experience he gained as a political re-porter for a Boston newspaper and during his service in the U. S. Labor Department.

He said that during his career he dealt with corruption as a reporter, with unemployment and labormanagement relations as Director of Information and later Assistant Secretary of Labor, and with communism as chairman of the 100-nation International Labor Organiza-

Atty. J. F. Holden history and government and a minor in economics. Will Manage Galvin Campaign

Michael J. Galvin of 107 Hobart Rd., Newton, today named Atty. John F. Holden as his campaign manager in Newton.

Galvin is Democratic candi date for State senator in the Norfolk-Suffolk district, which includes Wards 1, 6 and 7 of Newton.

He is a reserve major-general and commands Massachusetts' own 94th Division. He was formerly U.S. Under Sec-retary of Labor and is a veteran attorney.

Galvin stresses the need for Newton man in the senate, declaring that "this city has not had adequate and vigor-ous representation in the state legislature." He is opposed by Sen. Joseph Silvano, Brookline Republican. Mr. Holden, a Newton lawyer, promises an all-out campaign in behalf of the Democratic candidate, and reports that a strong committee of vol-unteer workers is being organized.

Senator Cutler Wins Funds For Mental Study

Senator Leslie B. Cutler, chairman of the Legislative Recess Commission on Mental Robert Health, has held two meetings the Commission in September, and a third only yesterday. Mrs. Cutler was successful in securing a muchneeded appropriation of $15,000 for the Commission in the closing days of the last session of the Legislature.

This means, Senator Cutler emphasized, that vitally important problems of mental health and illness, and ment-ally retarded children, can be studied and surveyed by competent staff of experts in this field. The commission, established in 1961 and continued this year, also has been given the task of studying the needs of narcotic addicts and especially the rehabilitation of uch persons.

Sen. Cutler went to Chicago on Oct. 3 to attend the threeday meeting of the American Medical Association's National Congress on Mental Health and Illness. She was pleased to receive an invitation from the AMA to participate in this Congress which brings tolevels. Newton High School's football team, with two straight victories behind it, meets a strong and undefeated Arlington High aggregation this week. The game will be played at Arlington Saturday with the kickoff scheduled for 1:30 p.m.

Arlington battled to a 6-6 tie last Saturday with Everett which handed Newton its lone defeat in the opening contest of the season. As a result Arlington will go into the clash a slight favorite. LORENZ F. MUTHER, JR. Muther To Study Elderly Problem Of Unemployment Representative Lorenz F. Muther, Jr., of Newton has been appointed to a special commission which will study the problem of unemployment among elderly citizens, it was announced this week.

"I am very glad to accept this appointment because it will let me work and learn in one more field affecting the best marshalling of our human resources in Massachu-settts," Representative Muther declared.

"It complements the work we are doing in the committee formal training for young people in the schools and colleges and the work of training and re-training the middle-aged in formal or extension courses for adults," he added.

Muther also was recently thanked by Charles C. O'Donnell, president of the Senior Citizens and Associates of America, for his "support of measures de-signed to make life a little more pleasant" for the senior citizens in the Common wealth.

Muther was renominated in last month's Republican primary and is standing for a second term in the November 6 election. He resides at 44

Girl Scouts In Special Session

Mrs. Arthur Barnes, Mrs. Russell Broad, Mrs. Robert Pettit and Miss Barbara Clif ford, executive director of the Newton Girl Scout Council are among selected trainers at tending a special four-day ses sion being held at Cedar Hill in Waltham this week. The event marks the beginning of the largest re-training program for Girl Scout adults in the organization's history These selected trainers an receiving advance information of the program change which will go into effect in Girl Scou troops across the country ginning in September 1963.

The program of Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., throughout its 50 year history has been shaped by the changing needs of girls in a changing society. Following an extensive study by one of the nation's leading research institutions, the Sur vey Research Center at the University of Michigan, the Girl Scout National Program Department translated findings into action, building on strengths and overcoming weaknesses. The plan called for the development of one program with four age-level adaptations, to be introduced to the membership through the simultaneous publication of four new handbooks.

At each level the program will have as its foundation the Girl Scout promise and laws, service to others, troop man agement by the girls them selves, citizenship, internation al friendship, health and safety. Each of the four levels will build on what has gone before, so that a girl who joins at 7 can continue to grow in Girl Scouting through the age of 17, with widening the age of 17, with widening horizons and new goals for endeavor. Brownie Girl Scouts will be aged 7 and 8 years; Junior Girl Scouts will be 9, 10 and 11; Cadette Girl Scouts will be 12, 13 and 14 and Senior Girl Scouts will be aged 15, 16 and 17.

The trainers from Newton Council will be among those who will re-train the approximately 50,000 volunteer adults who serve 200,000 Girl Scouts in New England.

Young GOP Club City-Wide Plan To Elect Ticket

The Newton Young Repub lican Club is vigorously sup-porting Republican candidates running for local and state office in the coming elections.
The club is concentrating its efforts on the local level to assure the election of Newton Republican representatives to the State Legislature.

In the southern part of the city, Mrs. Daniel Carmen heads a group which is working with Young Republicans of Boston College and the Col-lege of the Sacred Heart in conjunction with precinct cap-tains of the candidates. This group will devote its major attention to calling on individual households to urge the support of Republican candi-dates.

Coordinating Newton Young Republican Club efforts in the northern portion of the city is President Alan Licarie. His group will focus its efforts on distributing campaign lit-erature within the business districts of Newtonville, New ton Corner and West Newton In addition, the group is assisting in sending out cam-paign mailings to Newton vot-

FRANCIS W. PERRY

Rep. Perry Seeks Debate With Bellotti

Representative Francis W. Perry, Republican nom-inee for Lieutenant Governor, this week challenged his Democratic opponent, Francis V. Bellotti to a televised debate.

Pery offered to pay half the expenses involved in buying the necessary television time and requested Bellotti to do the same so that the voters might be better able to choose between them.

In his challenge, Perry told Bellotti that Endicott Peabody, Democratic candidate for Governor, and Francis W. Kelly, Democratic nominee for Attorney General, also could participate in the debate on Bellotti's side.

Perry referred to the fact that Peabody has been seeking an opportunity to appear before the voters in a debate and that this would afford him an opportunity to do so. free-swinging verbal battle almost certainly would result if Bellotti ac certainly cepts Perry's challenge. Perry was been aggressive fighter against corruption in government and abuses of public trust. He attracted widespread attention for his one-man crusade against the operation of the State Water the State Waterways Division. By stopping one deal alone he saved the people of Massachusetts more than $250,000 his supporters point out.

Perry also exposed a number of "sweetheart" parking deals negotiated by the State Public Works Department, forcing the department to advertise for competitive bids resulting in a substantially greater return for the State.

EDWARD M. KENNEDY

Ted Kennedy Has 5-Point Urban Plans

Edward M. Kennedy, Democratic candidate for Senator, said today that ur ban renewal and highway improvement projects must include "compassion and con-sideration for the people, the homes and the businesses they displace."

Mr. Kennedy announced his own five-point program to "destroy blight, improve trans-portation, yet not ignore human values in the rush for progress."

"Rehabilitation instead of clearance should be the prin-cipal aim of any urban renewal or highway project," he de clared.

His program will include:

—Return of residents to new housing in the same neighborhood at a price they can afford to pay.

—Doubling of federal payments for relocation of families forced rom their homes. -Compensation for loss of good will to businessmer forced to relocate, since this item is as valuable a part of business as fixtures and inven tories.

—Extension of the federal mortgage guarantee program to businessmen as well as to homeowners displaced by urban renewal or highway pro-

Mr. Kennedy said that the revitalization of our cities is proceeding faster today than ever before. "One reason for this is that we have in Washington an Administration responsive to city people and city problems." he said.

Instead of decaying and de-clining, our cities can rise to become the showplaces modern American life, he said.

"But it is clear that our cities cannot do this on their own," he added. "The Constitution limits the type of tax they can levy. The voters limit the amoun. The property tax has gone about as far as it can go. It is regressive. It is arbitrary."

Mr. Kennedy said that if elected Senator he would strongly urge the creation of a Department of Urban Af-

Hit-Run Crash Hospitalizes 4

The Kaufman family of 24 Manemet rd., Newton Centre, had no opportunity to get a description of the sedan, so quickly was their compact flipped onto its back by a hit and run driver just before 6 p.m. Friday.

Norman Kaufman, his wife, Barbara K. and their two Wayne and Andrew treated at Newton-Wellesley Hospital for injuries.

The compact was struck as it was turning right into Han-cock Ave. from Beacon st.

strong views on civil rights. "Recognition of the civil rights of all is an indispensable feature of a political system built on the sound principle that a government of laws is superior to a government of men,'

Bradley declared.
"Since most of us seldom willfully break the law, our contacts with police and other law-enforcement officers are likely to be infrequent," Bradley continued. "This happy fact should not close our eyes to the responsibility we all share to make certain that justice is always the ul-timate end of the law, both in its formulation and in its nforcement."

Bradley asserted that "the vigorous continuation of the present policies and programs in the civil rights division of the office of Attorney General of the Commonwealth is the least we can do to see that the rights of those accused of crime are not slighted.

"To that end, I shall work hard for the establishment of a permanent civil rights division under the close supervision of the Attorney General," he stated.

"A matter of related interest, but which affects an obviously large number of our citizens, is our public and private actions respecting minority groups," Alderman Bradley declared.

"I strongly urge the empowering of the Massachusetts Commission Against Discrimination to investigate instances of alleged discrimination to of alleged discrimination, to make reports both to the Governor and to the General Court, and to recommend legislation so that we might more speedily eliminate all forms of discrimination," Bradley went

"This program cannot be effective unless appropriations for the Commission work are increased and additional in-vestigators hired," Alderman Bradley concluded.

Mayor Calls Meeting For

A special meeting of the Board of Aldermen has been called by Mayor Don-ald L. Gibbs for the night of Nov. 15 to consider proposed changes in the city ordinances and zoning restrictions to permit the construction of a new Star Market in Newtonville.

A portion of the new super-market would extend out over the toll road and would be built simultaneously with the high-way link extending from Weston through Newton to Boston.

Even though the so-called air rights bill, which would have permitted 99-year leases on structures erected over the toll road, was vetoed by Gov-ernor Volpe at the last legisla-tive session, buildings can be located over the toll road under the law if the leases do not extend beyond the life of the 40-year bonds on the road.

Daylight Saving Ends on Sunday

Daylight Saving Time has run its course once again and will end at 2 a.m. next Sunday morning, October 28. All timepieces must be whisked ahead with the usual loss of one hour.

However, it isn't compulsory to remain awake until 2 a.m. as clocks and watches can be set ahead at bed-time; if at 11 o'clock push the clock ahead to midnight,

The hour lost this fall will be regained next spring when once again Daylight Saving Time returns to hand the final blow to Old Man Winter's frigid grip.

Alvin Tamkin Draws Praise From Herald

The Republican Boston Herald, in an unusual tribute to Democratic Governor's Councillor Alvin C. Tamkin, declared this week that what the Executive Council needs "is more outstanding men like Alvin C. Tamkin."

Tamkin is seeking re-election to the Council from the big second councillor district which takes in this area.

An article written by David Farrell, political edi-tor of the Herald, directed high praise at Tam-

After asserting that, "What the Council needs is more out-standing men like Alvin C. Tamkin," the article said in part:

"Tamkin is well liked and hlghly respected by his col-leagues on Beacon Hill. He is not a headline hunter, but a quiet, soft spoken politician who works hard at the task of good government for his constituents.

"During his 21 months in the Council, he has been one of the balancing factors which have kept one segment of the advisory body in check and proper focus.

"He is a studious, independent Democrat who will cross party lines and side with a Republican Governor when he merits bi-partisan sup-

"Tamkin has never occupied the political limelight, but is definitely one of his party's brighter prospects for higher office."

The Herald article observed that Tamkin, while serving in the House of Representatives, authored the idea of creating state supported community colleges and that four junior colleges already have been established throughout Massachusetts.

A graduate of Boston University and the B. U. Law School, Tamkin is a practising attorney in professional life.

"I am standing for reelection on the basis of my personal and public reputation for integrity," Tamkin de-clared in asking support of his candidacy in this section. "I have made integrity the basis for all of my decisions and ections during my entire

Political Highlights

Crusading Representative Francis W. Perry appears to be leading Attorney Francis X. Bellotti in a confusing contest for the Lieutenant Governorship. An unusual amount of ballot-splitting was revealed in the poll of the Perry-Bellotti fight.

The Italo-American voters, Republicans, Democrats and Independents, for the most part are voting leave an element of uncertainty for Volpe and then switching to Bellotti.

This is offset by the fact that a substantial number of Democrats and Independents intend to vote for Peabody and Perry. In some sections Perry seems to be the strongest member of the Republican State ticket. In areas where there is a heavy Italian vote Perry drops back noticeably.

Democrats who plan to vote for Perry say they intend to do so because they consider him the State's foremost fighter against corruption in government.

Many people commented on the fact that Perry spent his own money on his one-man probe into the operations of the State Waterways Division.

This seemed to balance off Perry's lack of glamor as a campaigner and the absence of any emotional appeal in his speeches to the voters. Perry obviously is widely respected for his exposure of the "sweetheart" parking deals and the waterways shenanigans.

However, there are so many cross-currents in the Perry-Bellotti fight that the poll results thus far are not conclusive even though they do point to Perry as the likely winner.

The estimate of a 400,000-vote plurality for Ted Kennedy over George Lodge is based on the expectation that about 2,000,000 votes will be cast for Kennedy and

If the total vote rises above that figure, Kennedy's margin of victory will go up proportionately. If it drops, Kennedy's plurality will decline with it. The poll returns gave Kennedy about 60 per cent of the straw ballots of the people who have decided favors the graduated tax plan, how they would vote and Lodge 40 per cent.

Projected against a total vote of 2,000,000 for the two candidates, that would give Kennedy 1,200,-000 votes and Lodge 800,000. It appears likely that their totals will be somewhere in the vicinity of those Approximately 10 per cent of the persons polled said they had not decided how they would vote between Kennedy and Lodge. (This contrasts with about 50 per cent undecided in the Brooke-Kelly fight.) If all the undecided voters in the Lodge-Kennedy struggle were to swing over to Lodge, which is highly improbable, Kennedy would still win by 200,000 votes.

One was that despite all the talk about electing a Governor and Lieutenant Governor from the same party a large number persons are splitting their ballots and voting for Pea-body and Perry or for Volpe and Bellotti.

The second was that many men and women, who are opposed to a graduated State income tax and will vote "No" on referendum Question No. 1, will also vote for Peabody who favors a graduate income tax.

This is one of the issues on which Volpe and Peabody have taken opposite sides. Volpe is strongly opposed to a graduated income tax and is urging the defeat of the proposal for amending the State Constitubut not as vigorously as Volpe

Nevertheless, some people, who seemingly are as sharply opposed to a graduated State come tax as is Volpe, are voting for Peaabody for the Newton Centre. Governorship. On Hughes' Views

The Editor The Newton Graphic Dear Sir:

I was pleased with the considerable coverage of the Hughes campaign in your October 11 issue. An independent candidate always has a cer-tain disadvantage in getting views widely Therefore, it is of extreme importance to the democratic process that the newspapers give him fair coverage.

There are two points on which I would like to comment. First, in your editorial reviews on ending nuclear testng." I suggest that extreme in this context is a fuzzy and prejudicial term which does nothing to define Hughes' position but does a lot toward dismissing it as marginal or "way-out." Hughes believes sound military, political, and moral reasons exist for stop-ping testing now, with or ping testing now, with or without an air-tight pact on small unimportant underground explosions. This is an argument that deserves to be heard in the political arena and debated rather than scorned. Personally, I think extreme is a term far better applied to the Pentagon and A.E.C. factions and to members of Congress who want us to go on and on testing as long that some military advantage might be gained.

Thank you again for your generally fine coverage. Sincerely yours, NORMAN K. GOTTWALD

Obviously, by this remark, Mr. Connelly refutes his own charge, since he admits that it is the Legislature which would have to make any change in taxes. Supper Clubbers Foster Parents Of Greek Child

Members of the Saturday Night Supper Club, 30 Kir-stall road, Newtonville, have "financially adopted" Catherine Zouva, an 11-year old Greek girl, through Foster Parents Plan, Inc.

The little girl's life was filled with a simple and quite lovely happiness, but the happy days came to an end when death took her father a year ago. She and her mother were left to face abject poverty in a little abject poverty in a little village some seven miles from Corinth, in South Greece. Catherine's school expenses, in the vicinity of $3.33 a month, take a huge bite out of what she, her mother and her ill grandmother have to live on. The $15 a month the Supper Clubbers have agreed to contribute to the support of the pretty and well-man-nered dark-eyed child is therefore a mightly important item.

Said the executive director of the Foster Parents Plan, "We are indeed grateful to these members for their wonderful gift of hope and help, and we prayerfully hope that many others will ask us how they may pro-vide help for a distressed

Officials of the Star Market Company, meanwhile, issued a statement announcing their intention to build a new store in Newtonville contiguous to the location of the present market which is to be demolished to make way for the toll road.

Their plans include construc tion of space for a branch of the Newton National Bank, a toy store and a children's shop, all of which are to be dislocated by the toll road.

The new super-market will square feet as against 17,000 in the existing store.

Council Needs Woman Says Atty. Heckler

Attorney Margaret M. Heckler, who is waging a vigorous campaign election to the Governor's Council from the second district, councillor clared at a meeting of vot-ers this week that "a fulltime effort is the solemn responsibility of every member of the Governor' Council.

"Liberal or Conservative, every voter in Massachusetts agrees that we must get full value for each and every tax dollar" Mrs.
Heckler stated. She stressed that the Executive Council "provides the House, 5th Middlesey discounted the stressed that the Executive Council "provides the House, 5th Middlesey discounted the stressed that the Executive Council "provides the House, 5th Middlesey discounted the stressed that we have a stressed that the Executive Council "provides the stressed that last opportunity to put a brake on reckless spending."

Attorney Heckler declared that a woman is needed in the Governor's Council and could perform a great service for the people of Massachusetts in

Mrs. Heckler further asserted that "a full time effort must be put into the investigation of the complex and costly contracts handled by the government before Council ap proval is rendered. This has not been done in the past," consequently, she maintained, "We need a Heckler on the Governor's Council."

Endorsed by the Norfolk Associates, Attorney Heckler's affiliations include the Boston Bar Association, Mass. Trial Lawvers' Association, Vice Lawyers' Association, Vice Presdent of the Women's Republican Club of Massachusetts.

Mrs. Heckler, a student in political science at Leiden University in Holland, won recognition for a scholarship in the field of government by being chosen an exchange student.

She is an elected Wellesley own meeting member, a member of the Republican Town Committee. She was also a women's coordinator for Congressman F. Bradford Morse.

FRANCIS W. PERRY

Francis Perry Proven Fighter Of Corruption

Representative Francis W. Perry, pressing his campaign for election as the next Lieutenant Governor, (declared today that program. during his prolonged probe into the operations of the State Waterways Division he found that abuses of public trust and corruption in government follow certain patterns.

Perry asserted that he has become familiar with patterns and Lieutenant Governor would be able to recognize them when contracts come before the Governor's Council for approval.

"As Lieutenant Governor and by virtue of that office a member of the Executive Council, I would be in an excellent position to help prevent abuses through contractual wrongdoing," Perry stat

Perry pointed out that has had experience in fight-ing and combatting corruption which his opponent for the Lieutenant Governorship has not had.

"The people of Massachu-setts are familiar with the lengthy irt/estigation I made at my own expense into the operations of the Waterways Division," Perry said.

"They know that I did some thing about corruption in gov ernment, that I fought it ag-gressively, that I spent my time, my energy and money investigating the op-erations of a division which I consider the worst run in our State government.

"That investigation produced concrete results.

"On one land deal alone, which I was successful in blocking, the people of Mas-sachusetts were saved more than $250,000.

"That estimate is based on the amount which Waterways Director Bessette agreed to pay for land at South Cape Beach in Mashpee and the amount which an impartial appraiser said the property was

"That was one concrete ac complishment.

Social Security Numbers Must Be on Returns

The Social Security office reminds all employers who are required to file quarterly returns of wages on Form 941 to be sure to show the employee's name and social security number on the return exactly as it appears on the employee's social security card.

Failure to follow these instructions may result in the wages not being credited to the employee's social security account. Since the amount of retirement, disability and survivors benefits payable is based on the amount of wages posted to a worker's account. it is extremely important that his wages be properly re-

Many employers report a recently married girl's wages under her married name when she has not changed her name on Social Security Administration's records. The proper procedure is to continue to report the employee under her maiden name until she gets a new social security card show ing her married name. Do not change your records if the employee merely erosses out her maiden name on her Social Security card and writes in her new name. She should be urged to call at her social security office to get a new card that will show her original social security number and new name If employers have any questions on how the quarterly reorts are to be completed, consult the local se curity office.
